A ROUND OF TALK.

Never Had Time.

There was an old fellow who never had time.
For a fresh morning look at the Volume Sublime;
Who never had time for the soft hand of prayer,
To smooth out the wrinkles of labor care;
Who could not find time for that service so sweet
At the altar of home where the dear ones all meet,
And never found time with the people of God,
To learn the good way that the fathers have trod;
But he found time to die, O yes!
He found time to die.

This boy old fellow, too busy was he
To linger at breakfast, too busy was he
For the merry, small chatter of children and wife,
But led in his marriage a bachelor life.
Too busy for kisses, too busy for play,
No time to be loving, no time to be gay,
No time to replenish his vanishing health,
N time to enjoy his swift-gathering health;
But he found time to die, O yes!
He found time to die.

But, for such a life, better, ever and ever,
But he found time to die, O yes!
He found time to die.

Home and Farm.

DISCONTENTED—I suppose discontent will continue to be one of the strong characteristics of the human family so long as the world lasts. So many people are so prone to think that a move or a change in their mode of living will bring about happy results and improved conditions when the contrary effect often results.

Now the spirit of discontent seems to be raging in this particular community. To the town dweller the news of high prices of farm products and good prospects of abundant harvest is particularly alarming and the town man in many cases is looking about with an eye for a farm bargain where he may reap the benefits of some of this boom in agricultural values.

On the other hand there is a class and their class is the larger by the way—who are sure that to live in town would be the very same of all that is desirable and they are willing to make many sacrifices to accomplish that end. Springfield has been reaping the benefit of this town-booming epidemic which seems to have struck our country friends in a severe form of late.

The town's population has increased remarkably from this source alone during the past few years and the new comers are generally speaking a welcome and desirable addition to the town's citizenship. The old wise head town dweller will shake his head and make predictions that are not of a rosy hue for these friends from the rural districts. He predicts that unless these new arrivals are possessed of a good fat bank account they will soon begin to set up and take notice of a few things. For example instead of going to the milk house and selecting a pound of butter from the last churning the good housekeeper will step to the telephone, for use of which she pays two or three dollars a month, and order the grocer to send up one of those thirty five cent pounds of creamy butter. Instead of going to the "smoke house" and cutting down an old ham or side of bacon she goes to the butcher shop or the grocery where a dollar bill will hardly buy enough bacon to grease a skillet. The store account is no longer paid off by the product from the hen-farm nor is the cellar to be stored with provisions enough to keep the family table supplied during the winter. The advantages of life in town are many, but they are not without their price.

BUILDING BOOM.—All indications point to a building boom of no small dimensions during the coming Spring and Summer and no less than a score of dwellings both large and small are being planned. Springfield continues to grow in respect to population and dwelling houses. What we need now is the establishment of a few local manufacturing industries to give employment and to bring money to the town.

CLEAN UP.—We publish in this issue a proclamation and order from the Mayor of the town asking the Chairman of the Bar of Health, warning all residents of the town to clean up their premises and to keep them clean. In view of the prevalence of typhoid fever in this community to which we are exposed every year, it has been demonstrated that a person never has its origin in the town that is wholly preventable. Offenders are liable to the penalty for neglecting same.

How to Remain Young

To continue young in health and strength, do as Mrs. N. P. Rowan, McDonough, Ga. did. She says: "Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured me of chronic liver and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin red as flannel. I am now practically 20 years younger than before I took Electric Bitters. I can now do all my work with ease and saved in my husband's store." Guaranteed at Haydon & Robertson's Drug Store. Price 50c.

Jealousy

Mr. J. L. Harmon and wife are out again after a severe attack of the grippe.

Mr. Ed Connoogher and wife, of Springfield, have been spending several days with their parents near here.

Born since our last to the wife of Mr. Ernest Pope a girl; to the wife of Mr. Charlie Connoogher a boy, and to the wife of Mr. Houston Green a boy.

The prayer meeting at Mr. G. T. Kimberlin's last Wednesday night was well attended.

Mr. Will Peterson and wife, of Texas, have moved near here. We are glad them to our midst.

Miss Josie Coyle, of Springfield, is visiting relatives here.

Mr. M. L. D. Connoogher was in Springfield Saturday.

Intimidation.

A large number of farmers and tobacco growers in Woodford county this week received a printed circular signed with a face similar signature of Ben Marshall, Clerk of the Franklin Circuit Court, and enclosed in a sealed envelope, bearing Mr. Marshall's name and address in the corner. These circulars contain an announcement of the Court of Appeals' recent affirmance of the Trimble County Circuit Court, assessing a fine of $2,000 against the International Harvester Company for violation of the anti-trust act, and a

also, a copy of the Kentucky Statutes, which prohibit any corporation, individual or person from becoming a party to "any pool, agreement, understanding," etc., to fix the price of any article or commodity, followed by the statement that violation of this statute is punishable by a fine of $500 to $5,000.

Coming at a time when the Barley Tobacco Society is engaged in securing pledges of the 1907 tobacco crop and immediately following the decision of Special Judge Marshall of the Woodford Circuit Court to void the act of 1906 authorizing the farmers to pool their crops, it looks very much as if the purpose of these circulars is to intimidate, if possible, the farmers of this county and prevent them from signing their 1907 tobacco crops to the Barley Society pool.

When Circuit Clerk Marshall was called up by telephone, at Frankfort, and asked why he had issued the circulars, he replied that he had sent them out because he had been employed and paid to do so. He declined to give the names of the persons or persons who had employed him.

As far as is known the circulars giving the Court of Appeals' decision were sent only to Woodford county.—Woodford Sun.

Served Her Son's Life

The happiest mother in the little town of Ays, Mo., is Mrs. S. Kupper. She writes: "One year ago my son was down. His such serious lung trouble that our physician was unable to help him; when, by our druggist's advice I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, and I soon noticed improvement. I kept this treatment up for a few weeks when he was perfectly well. He has worked steadily since at carpenter's work. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life." Guaranteed best cough and cold by Haydon & Robertson's Drug Store. Price 50c.

Newspapers.

A preacher came at a newspaper man in this way. "Your editors do not tell the truth. If you said you did you could not live; your newspapers would be a failure." The editor replied: "You are right, and the minister who will at all times and under all circumstances tell the whole truth, about his members, alive or dead, will not occupy his pulpit more than one Sunday before he will find it necessary to leave town in a hurry. The press and the pulpit go hand in hand with white wash brushes and pleasant words, magnifying little virtues into big ones. The pulpit, the pen and the grave-stones are the great sin-making triumvirate." And the great minister went away looking very thoughtful, while the editor turned to his work and sold of the surpassing beauty of the bride, while, in fact, she was as homely as a mud fence.—Hardsburg Democrat.

C. C. McCHORD.

Something of His Career—
Written in the Danville Herald.

Mr. McChord is nominated to succeed himself as a member of the Kentucky Railroad Commission, on which body he has served continuously as chairman since 1892, with the exception of four years from 1895 to 1899 when he was a member of the State Senate. Mr. McChord was appointed a member of the commission by Gov. Brown in 1892. The office of State Railroad Commissioner was made an elective one in 1895 by the new State Constitution.

His years of experience in dealing with the complexities of railroad problems in Kentucky have made Mr. McChord one of the widest known State officials in the country. He is author of the McChord Railroad Bill, under which the Railroad Commissioners are given power to make freight rates in Kentucky, and which has successfully stood the test of the Supreme Court. The McChord Bill is responsible for the reduction by one quarter of freight rates in the State and placed Louisville on a par with Cincinnati, which had an advantage of 25 per cent in the matter of freight rates. In cases growing out of both of these reductions the State Railroad Commission has been enjoined, and Commissioner Stone will take proof in the case next month.

Mr. McChord is first vice president of the State Association of Railroad Commissioners, the organization of which embraces the commissioners of thirty-three States. He is in his appointment old, and prior to 1890 he was by Governor Boyd of Washington County, Ky., prosecuting attorney in that county, in which position he was serving his term when he resigned to take the last appointment.

By a bill passed at the session of the Kentucky General Assembly, the salary of chairman of the State Railroad Commission was increased from $2,000 to $3,000 a year and that of the two other members of the commission from $2,000 to $3,000 a year. In the event of Mr. McChord's re-election, it is believed that he will again be chosen chairman of the commission.—Boyle County Herald.

Old Kentucky's Growth.

Official figures furnished by the Federal Government show that the increase in Kentucky's property from 1900 to 1904 was $162,325,515. The total in 1904 was $1,536,489,240; in 1900 it was $1,374,163,725. Real property and improvements show an increase from $795,939,007 in 1900 to $850,247,907 in 1904. In live stock we have moved from $77,835,007 to $96,489,409. In farm machinery the advance has been from $15,301 to $17,682,827. In gold, silver and bullion the up lift has been from $27,765,815 to $41,672,608.

The railroads and their equipments were valued in 1900 at $125,520,000; in 1904, at $155,722,000. Street railway, shipping and water works have risen in value from $5,994,061 to $56,710,312. Machinery tools, and implements were valued in 1900 at $25,424,506; in 1904 $80,100,195. All other valuations are cited at $235,449,865 in 1900, and $271,395,852 in 1904.

The average value of land per acre was, in 1900 $30.95 acre, and in 1904, $33.41. The per capita valuation in 1900 stood at $50.61; in 1904, $57.78.

Kentucky has made gigantic strides. It is every day moving forward. With its equitable system of state and local taxation her advances were even still more rapid. The State in the Union has greater possibilities.

CHESTNUT DARE

As a Sire He Has No Equal.

Sorrel Stallion, 7 years old, 16 hands, one inch high, a large handsome saddle and harness horse with size, style, bone and finish, substance and conformation. This horse proved a successful sire for horse last summer by winning 14 ties out of 15 shows.

His colts won first and second ties over all competitors at our last fair defeating the unbeaten Castlemian colt in the Blue Grass Circuit.

Not one of his three seasons of colts have ever been defeated by a colt sired by a Washington county horse.

Eight of his colts of last season sold at weanlings from $100 to $150, the highest price for colts ever sold at same age by any horse owned or farmed in the county.

Chestnut Dare was sired by Chester Dare 10, 1st dam by Red Chief, 2nd dam by Black Hawk Chief 3rd dam Brinkers Decker.

The Chester Dare's are recognized by all to be not only the highest price but the greatest show family of horses in Kentucky and Chestnut Dare is a worthy son of a great sire.

I want to state that recently I was offered twice as much money for him as any stallion in the county ever sold for. I have as much as has been paid for a saddle or harness stallion brought into the county, so I ask the owners of good mares to patronize him so I can be justified in keeping a type of horse whose colts can't be beaten or out sold by any.

CHESTNUT DARE will make the season at my place near Litsay, Ky.

$20 To Insure a Mare in Foal

I still have my saddle horse Lexington Prince and the same Jacks and stand them at same price I did last year, viz: The horse at $10 and Jacks at $10 and $8.

PROSPECT

This combined stallion will make a season of two years for $50.00. He is a perfect sire, better known as the Porter Bay place on the Danville pike, 15 miles from Lebanon, Ky. at $15 To Insure a Living Colt.

Mares traded or parted with for less insurance and money received. Retained on colt all season is paid. Mares from a distance granted at reasonable price. Mares entrusted with care of stallion or harness but not responsible for accidents or escapes.

Lebanon Goes Dry.

After a day of intense excitement the local option election held at Lebanon on Tuesday resulted in a victory for the temperance people by 63 majority. Those who witnessed it say that they never beheld such a scene as Lebanon presented. The town was thronged with people. Men, women and children marched through the streets, hands played and women sang in rallying the temperance forces. The people went wild with excitement and when the result was announced the demonstration was one bordering on pandemonium. All saloon licenses expire in Lebanon on May 1st after which time no liquor will be permitted to be sold legally.

Lawrenceburg Votes Wet.

A special from Lawrenceburg says: "After one of the most spirited contests in the history of the county the effort of those who sought, under the provision of the local option law, to prohibit the sale of liquor in Lawrenceburg, was defeated at the polls today, the 'wets' being victorious by a majority of 77 votes.

The whiskey men conducted a campaign on unusually dignified lines, and are jubilant over their victory. There are eight saloons in Lawrenceburg.

Victorious.

Team of Springfield bowlers the Glen Lillies went last week and defeated the place National.

At about 7 o'clock on last Friday evening fire was discovered to be raging in an upstairs
room of the residence of Mr.
M. L. Searcy on Main street.

The alarm was quickly given and the flames were extinguished with buckets of water. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp and the furniture of the room suffered considerable damage. The fire department was on hand promptly but it was not found necessary to turn on the streams from the fire hose.

As has been the custom for years on March county court days there was an informal parade of fine stallions on the streets Monday. The horses made a creditable showing of Washington county's breeding stock. Among the horses shown were Mr. B. B. Leachman's Chestnut Dare, L. D. Baker's Red Bird
and Sunshine, W. R. Coan-ougher's Rayview. Prospected a fine young stallion owned in taken down at $60.50 per head.

One pair of mare mules, 3 and 5 years old, sold for $330. Some 2 year old mules were offered

Death of Mrs. Ray.
Mrs. Fannie Boone Ray, wife of Mr. William E. Ray, the well known farmer of the Pleasant Run neighborhood died Tuesday night in an infirmary in Louisville where she had undergone an operation for tumor.
The operation which was performed last week was apparently successful and her husband had returned home feeling assured that Mrs. Ray was getting along nicely. Unexpected complications arose however and death was the result.

"The news of the death of Mrs.
Ray casts a gloom over the community in which she had lived all of her life and where she was greatly loved for her many Christian virtues. She was about 62 years of age and was a daughter of the late Isaac Froman at one time one of the county's most enterprising farmers. In the year 1875 she was married to Mr. William E. Ray and they have a family of ten children. There perhaps never was a more devoted wife and mother nor kinder friend and neighbor than Mrs. Ray and she was a general favorite socially and in her church. She was a valued member of Bethlehem

church and never tired in doing good. The remains were brought out yesterday and the funeral will be conducted from Bethlehem church this morning by Rev. R. L. Pardon, the pastor.
The greatest sympathy is extended to the bereaved husband and children.

KILLS HERSELF
Mollie Keeling Drinks Car-
bolic Acid and Dies.
Mollie Keeling a young woman about 22 years of age and a daughter of Bill Shimmerborn living near Williamsburg committed suicide Monday afternoon by drinking a half ounce of carbolic acid. The cause of the young woman's rash act is not known although she is said to have written a long letter to her folks just before she took her life which will probably throw some light on the affair. She had been employed as a domestic in the family of Mr. T. J. Miller for some time past and it is said was visited by her father one day last week and the two appeared to have had a quarrel.
The young woman left Mr.
Miller's home on Monday afternoon and went to her own home and at about 5 o'clock she was swallowed about a half ounce of carbolic acid which she was carrying. She died in agony at
